Luis Gamalinda raised concerns about the Board changing the public comments section of the agenda. Mr. Gamalinda feels that it is not asking too much of the Board to listen to comments from the people that have elected them and moving the comments to the end of the meeting discourages people from speaking.

Joshua Gamalinda spoke in opposition to the District's decision to allow a transgender student access to the locker room that corresponds with their gender identity. Mr. Gamalinda feels that this is not right according to the Bible and God.

Audrey Pettit spoke in opposition to the District's decision to allow a transgender student access to the locker room that corresponds with their gender identity. 3. Other Business – Board Member and CEO Update, If Necessary

A. Board Member Update

Mrs. Ward stated that, in light of the overwhelming opposition to this change in practice the District has received, she believes the District should take a step back and not mix opposite biologically sexed children in private spaces until this national issue has worked its way through the legal system. Mrs. Ward asked who drafted the guidelines that were released and what was the process for approval. She asked why the Board was left out of that process. Mrs. Ward also asked if there is a procedure document that delineates how transgender students will be supervised in private spaces when opposite biologically sexed children are present and how will this work on field trips.

Mr. Sanders responded that the guidelines were drafted at the cabinet level with the counsel of Mr. Miguel Rodriguez, Chief Legal Officer and Franczek Radelet, outside legal counsel for School District U-46. Like other guidelines and procedures they align to Board policy, it was not brought to the Board other than for informational purposes. Mr. Sanders also stated that they would consider the field trip issue.

Ms. Kerr reported that she attended the U-46 Curriculum and Career Expo. She thanked CAC and the Alignment Collaborative for Education for sponsoring the event and all the local companies that came out to showcase several dozen careers. Ms. Kerr was very impressed. She also attended the Illinois State Board of Education Listening Tour for the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Ms. Kerr stated that she is still not an expert on ESSA and she has concerns that this is going to be similar to No Child Left Behind. Ms. Kerr attended the Gay Straight Alliance Club at Elgin High School and enjoyed meeting with the kids. She would like to visit other high school clubs in the future.

Ms. Noland stated that she considers herself a person of faith. It is important to state that she does not consider her faith to be represented by the public speakers at this meeting. She is hearing the same people week after week and believes they represent a narrow ideology. Ms. Noland stated that she will not condone name calling or equate students as being evil. She will protect the students and she supports the District's policy. Ms. Noland stated that the guidelines were developed by staff, and that staff work is based on policies set by the Board. Ms. Noland stated that if you want to change the policies of the District run for a position on the Board. She feels that there were several inflammatory statements this evening, and she is sure that Mr. Sanders will be following up with the students from Larkin and Elgin High schools. She reminded all students that if they do not feel safe there are many individuals they can contact, including her.

Mr. Costello applauded everyone that came up and spoke over the last couple of weeks. He especially applauded the youth that came out to speak, and he is impacted by what they have to say. He agrees with Ms. Noland that the Board can be approached by calls and emails, not just at meetings. Mr. Costello stated that the process needs to be understood and communicated to the community. Mr. Costello announced the next town hall meeting will be October 26, 2016, at 7:00 p.m. at Streamwood Park District with Ms. Kerr and himself. They encourage all public comments and will respond as two Board members, not as the whole Board.

Mr. Sanders assured Ms. Noland that he took notes and will definitely follow up on the comments made by students this evening, especially regarding alcohol consumption in the school setting. Mr. Sanders reviewed the process that was taken to set the guidelines. Mr. Sanders stated that the communication of this decision could have been better but at the time there were no guidelines to communicate and the goal was to get the student taken care of and back in school studying.

Mrs. O'Neal Ellis stated that she is a Christian and she feels that she has not seen her faith represented here over the last few weeks. She also feels that there have been a lot of inaccurate facts stated. Mrs. O'Neal Ellis also stated that, as a member of an oppressed and marginalized group, she will never support the marginalization and oppression of another minority group. Mrs. O'Neal Ellis feels that a lot of the reasons she has heard over the last few weeks to discriminate against transgender students sound an awful lot like the reasons that were used to discriminate against people that look like her. She feels that the discrimination is ugly, hateful, and wrong in God's eyes and she is not persuaded by the Christians that have come before her with the hate that has been presented. Mrs. O'Neal Ellis stated that she does not govern by what one person says because there are 30 other people that say something different. She believes that no elected official can just do what the people want. People are diverse. Mrs. O'Neal Ellis stated that the people did not elect her to do what she is told to do. She was elected to use her judgment to evaluate and weigh the facts, and to make a reasoned decision. Mrs. O'Neal Ellis stated that the people can decide whether she did or did not use good judgment at election time.

Mr. Holt thanked everyone for coming out. He thinks it is very important to continue to listen to the community on this issue. His biggest concerns are privacy and transparency. Mr. Holt wants to make sure that every parent knows what their rights are. Mr. Holt stated that accommodations can be made for students for any variety of reasons. He would like to see it communicated efficiently to parents and community members. Mr. Holt was glad Mr. Sanders took responsibility tonight. Mr. Holt wants to make sure that administration is held accountable.

Mr. Loera stated that his generation is the most opened minded. He stated that trans students do their best to look like the opposite and in reality, he does not even recognize a trans student. Mr. Loera stated that if a transgender student wants to be able to change in a locker room that they identify with, because that is who they are, then by all means go ahead. He and the students he has spoken to do not have a problem with it. Mr. Loera reported that the students he has spoken to were surprised this was not already happening. Mr. Loera believes that transgender students' voices are equal to everyone else and as a Board, a District, and a community we need to show them that we do care and we want them to be equal. Mr. Loera stated that personally, the members of the LGBT community that he has known have been some of the nicest people he has met. Mr. Loera stated that they are not confused, they know exactly who they are.

B. Public Participation at Board Meetings

Board President Smith presented the Guidelines for Public Participation at Board Meetings pursuant to Board Policy #2.110 and Board Policy #8.512. Mrs. Smith in conjunction with Board member Kerr developed the proposed Guidelines for consideration. If there are less than 20 public comments there is no change to the process. If there are over 20 comments they will be divided between agenda items and non-agenda items. Comments regarding the agenda will be done during the first public comment section; non-agenda comments will be done during the second public comment section. Additionally speakers will be allowed two minutes per comment.

Mr. Costello stated that he is fundamentally opposed to this policy. Mr. Costello feels that the most important thing, in his mind, is to listen to people. He stated that the Board's business is only legitimized by the voice of the voters.

Mrs. Smith is seeking a balance between the public comments and the work that will still give people the ability to voice their opinion.

Mrs. Ward asked why a committee was not formed to discuss this policy change.

Mrs. Smith answered that it is not a change in policy it is just a change in the guidelines.

Mr. Holt stated that he feels that this might hinder public comments and he thinks that is bad governance.

Ms. Kerr stated that she agrees that the balance is important. She stated that no one wants to cut off public comments.

Ms. Ward feels that the majority of the Board did not want to limit public comments until the majority of the people disagreed with them. Mrs. Ward vehemently disagrees with this proposed course of action and she will actively oppose it. She feels that if the Board had been more transparent and come to a mutually agreed upon practice, there would not be such a large opposition. Mrs. Ward indicated that she would be voting no.

Ms. Noland finds these guidelines to be balanced. She does not feel that it limits anyone in any way. Ms. Noland stated that all it does is manage the flow of the comments. She disagrees that this change is only because of the transgender issue.

Motion by Ms. Noland, second by Mrs. O'Neal Ellis, to approve the Guidelines for Public Participation at Board Meetings, as presented.
