South Elgin students win grand prize at LA film fest

Students at South Elgin High School's Beacon Magnet Academy of Media and Digital Arts took home the grand prize for "Best Documentary Short" at the 2023 Silicon Beach Film Festival in Los Angeles.

"Teaching the Holocaust: Beyond Facts and Figures" centers on a student-staged reading of "The Thin Edge of the Wedge," presented at Congregation Kneseth Israel in Elgin in January.

The play, written by Phyllis Zimbler Miller, a 1966 graduate of Elgin High School, features accounts from Holocaust survivors and their families that she collected. Students involved with the play also visited the Illinois Holocaust Museum, according to an online news release.
