Fox Valley mayors look ahead to 2020

The Daily Herald asked Fox Valley mayors and village presidents to look ahead to 2020 and identify the most important thing they hope their community can accomplish in the coming year -- and to share it with us in roughly 50 words. Here's what they said ...

Elgin Mayor David Kaptain

David Kaptain, Elgin

Our greatest successes happen when we plan for the long-term needs of our community. A prepared and educated workforce is fundamental to that. The city will continue to be a leader in the Alignment Collaborative for Education, a partnership with Elgin Area School District U-46, with commitments from more than 130 organizations to work together on new ways to improve educational outcomes and better connect our students to local jobs. From our youngest students to those ready for a career, we are all working hard to set up our future generations for success.

I am so grateful for every person in the community who contributes to Elgin's success and progress. As we move into 2020, please continue to share ideas with me for how we can continue to make Elgin the best place to live, grow and prosper.
